

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Publisher wishes to draw the attention of our readers to the forthcoming publication of the Biorheology Ten Year Cumulative Index.

This Index will provide an invaluable work of reference for everyone involved in the field of biorheology. It is compiled under the following sections:

Author Index—All Authors to Biorheology are indexed and cross reference is made between principal and co-authors.

Subject Index—Each paper has been indexed according to content under several headings, e.g. Instruments and Apparatus, Microcirculation, Model Studies, etc.

Name Index—This provides an index to all persons cited in Biorheology; contributors and those cited in references.

The Index will be bound separately and will be available to both subscribers and non-subscribers. Please address any enquiries to:
