EDITORIAL

A conference on rheology of biological fluids, identified as EUROMECH 186, took place in Nancy, France from 17 - 19 September 1984. Its Co-Chairmen were M. Lucius and J.F. Stoltz of Nancy. The Proceedings of this conference are published in BIORHEOLOGY and, as far as communications regarding clinical hemorheology are concerned, in CLINICAL HEMORHEOLOGY. J.F. Stoltz is Guest Editor of communications published in BIORHEOLOGY and Editor of communications to be published in CLINICAL HEMORHEOLOGY. There will be several parts of the Proceedings. Part I is published in this issue while Part II will be published in CLINICAL HEMORHEOLOGY, Issue No. 5 this year. Any subsequent parts of this conference will be published in subsequent issues of both Journals.

We are glad to publish the communications pertaining to the EUROMECH 186 conference as we believe they are of great interest to our Readers.
