

CONTENTS OF CLINICAL HEMORHEOLOGY, VOLUME 13, NUMBER 2

VOLUME 13, NUMBER 2

MARCH-APRIL 1993

CONTENTS

Conference Communications

*Proceedings of the Eighth International Congress of Biorheology, Yokohama, Japan,
3-8 August 1992 - Part II*

Symposium: The Effects of Diabetes on the Flow Properties of Blood and the Behavior of its Formed Elements

- D.E. McMillan 147 Hemorheological studies in the diabetes control & complications trial

Non-Conference Communications

Review Article

- G. Potron, E. Petitfrère and P. Nguyen 155 Platelet activating factor and ischemia

Papers

- A. Acciavatti, D. Pieragalli, T. Provvedi,
G.L. Messa, C. Frigerio, M. Saletti,
C. Galigani, F. Guideri, M. Franchi,
P. Bardi, F. Laghi Pasini and T. Di Perri 177 Circadian variation of platelet aggregation and blood rheology
- J.F. Brun, C. Fons, I. Supparo, C. Mallard and A. Orsetti 187 Could exercise-induced increase in blood viscosity at high shear rate be entirely explained by hematocrit and plasma viscosity changes?
- J.F. Brun, C. Fons, I. Supparo, C. Mallard and A. Orsetti 201 Relationships between metabolic and hemorheologic modifications associated with overweight
- J.F. Brun, P. Boulot, C. Fons, F. Frosi,
F. Deschamps, B. Bachelard, I. Supparo,
J.L. Viala and A. Orsetti 215 Study of some physiological aspects of blood rheology in fetuses by intrauterine umbilical cord venepunctures. Relationships with hemodynamic measurements
- G. Caimi, A. Serra, R. Lo Presti, G. Grifò,
A. Romano, A. Catania, G. Francavilla,
S. D'Asaro, M. Montana and A. Sarno 227 Red cell Ca<sup>2+</sup> content (total and cytosolic) and erythrocyte membrane fluidity in several clinical conditions
