

PREFACE

---

Our thanks go to Peter Brusilovsky and Christoph Peylo for their work as Guest Editors for this, the last of the papers of the Special Issue on Adaptive and Intelligent Web-based Systems spanning Volume 12, No 4 and this issue, Volume 13, No 2–4. It has been a long wait but the result is worthwhile.

I also wish to thank Benedict du Boulay for his work on the Journal during the last two years – he took over the Editorship in difficult circumstances which became doubly difficult owing to circumstances beyond his control. As I take over the Editorship I am well aware of how much work he has done behind the scenes, and how much work will be needed in the future.

I hope that I will be able to develop the Journal in line with the vision of the Society to make sure that the quality of the papers appearing in the Journal are recognized in the international citation indices.

Paul Brna

December 2003