11 The Editor-in-Chief was contacted by readers about the allegation of improper citations in the article.
12 Investigation by the editorial office found that several references in the article do not support the 13 results and, in some cases, do not relate to the content of the article, as found by readers who shared
14 their findings in PubPeer. The article also allegedly reuses an unrelated image in Figure 6.

15
16 Further investigation by the editorial office found unusual and unjustified authorship changes.
